THE SIR 2027 REQUIREMENT

Does your university as a body systematically measure/track women's application rate and acceptance or entry rate?

01 Statement of Evidence

Bahria University's direct answer to the requirement

Yes. Bahria University tracks applications, offers, acceptances and Semester 1 entry for every campus and every intake in its Campus Management System (CMS), through which all candidates apply, and the Directorate of Admissions, Head Office, reports these stages from the CMS for each campus and academic level, with women's entry for each, using defined formulas for the women's application, acceptance and entry rates. For the Spring 2025 and Fall 2025 intakes, the Directorate's CMS tracking report records 50,762 applications, 8,662 offers and 8,647 acceptances across all campuses, and 3,994 women among 8,451 Semester 1 entrants, a women's entry rate of 47.3 per cent. By campus, women were 43.2 per cent of entrants at Islamabad E-8, 47.2 per cent at Karachi, 40.1 per cent at Islamabad H-11, 36.8 per cent at Lahore and 93.0 per cent at the Institute of Professional Psychology, Karachi, while the Health Sciences Campus, Karachi, tracks entry through its own registry. By level, women were 44.9 per cent of undergraduate, 55.3 per cent of postgraduate and 29.6 per cent of doctoral entrants. The Admissions Policy requires each campus to send the Director Admissions a weekly admissions state of applicants and processing fees during every cycle, and the Director Admissions to analyse the results of each cycle and present them to the Rector.

02 Evidence and Activity Record

Dated facts and records that substantiate the statement

Section 1 shows the Campus Management System in which admissions are recorded. Section 2 presents the Directorate of Admissions' CMS tracking report for the 2025 intakes, with its figures by academic level and by campus, its stage definitions and rate formulas, and charts of the women's entry rates. Section 3 reproduces the Admissions Policy, Edition 2, provisions that require applications to be monitored during each cycle and results analysed after it, shown from the cover through the table of contents. The updated policy includes explicit tracking of women's application, offer and entry rates under paragraph 4.1.2.

TABLE 1 Applications, offers, acceptances and women's entry by campus, 2025 intakes

1. The Campus Management System

The Campus Management System (CMS) is the University's single system of record for admissions and students across all campuses. Candidates apply online through its Admissions portal, and students, faculty, alumni, administrative staff and executives sign in to the same system. Executives hold access to every campus and see the Students module, including the Registered Strength and Batchwise Students reports, together with the Admissions and Quality Assurance modules. The figures in Section 2 are drawn from these CMS records.

2. Directorate of Admissions: tracking report for the 2025 intakes

The Directorate of Admissions, Bahria University Head Office, issues the University's tracking report on women's application, acceptance and entry for all constituent campuses. The report for 2025 was extracted from the CMS on 1 November 2026 and combines the Spring 2025 and Fall 2025 intakes. It records, for each academic level and each campus, the applications received, the admissions offered and accepted, the acceptance rate and women's final entry, and for each level the total Semester 1 intake. It states that programme-level sums are reconciled with official CMS totals for every campus and intake. The full report is reproduced below, followed by its figures by level and by campus and enlarged extracts of its tables, definitions and formulas.

- Scope & Reconciliation: Figures combine the Spring 2025 and Fall 2025 intakes across constituent campuses in the Bahria University Campus Management System (CMS). Programme-level sums are reconciled with official CMS totals for every campus and intake.
- Stage Definitions: Total Applications includes national and foreign applicants (50,762). Offered (8,662) represents candidates who cleared the admission test and interview. Accepted (8,647) represents candidates who paid the admission fee (Accepted may exceed Offered in specific streams where candidates shifted programmes upon fee payment). Women Final Entry (3,994 out of 8,451 total Semester 1 entrants, or 47.3%) represents female students registered in Semester 1 of each intake.

Institutional Tracking & Evaluation Formulas (THE Impact Rankings SDG 5.3.1 Methodology):

1. Women's Application Rate = (Total Female Applicants ÷ Total Applicants) × 100
2. Women's Acceptance Rate = (Total Female Applicants Offered / Accepted for Admission ÷ Total Female Applicants) × 100
3. Women's Entry (Enrollment) Rate = (Total Female Students Enrolled in Semester 1 ÷ Total Students Enrolled in Intake) × 100 = (3,994 ÷ 8,451) × 100 = 47.3%

2.1 Figures by academic level

Across all levels, women were 3,994 of the 8,451 Semester 1 entrants (47.3 per cent). Women formed a majority of postgraduate entrants, 1,097 of 1,982 (55.3 per cent), and were 44.9 per cent of undergraduate entrants (2,875 of 6,397). At doctoral level, 21 of 71 entrants were women (29.6 per cent). Offer rates ranged from 14.9 per cent of applications at undergraduate and doctoral level to 29.3 per cent at postgraduate level.

Level	Applications	Offered (rate)	Accepted (rate)	Semester 1 intake	Women entrants (share)
Undergraduate (BS, BBA, BE, LLB, AD, DPT)	42,611	6,350 (14.9%)	6,577 (15.4%)	6,397	2,875 (44.9%)

2.2 Figures by campus

The report gives applications, offers, acceptances and women's entry for each constituent campus. Islamabad E-8 received 24,084 applications, 47.4 per cent of the University total, made 3,140 offers and recorded 1,445 women entrants, 43.2 per cent of its intake. Karachi received 13,794 applications, made 3,055 offers and recorded the largest number of women entrants, 1,509 (47.2 per cent). Islamabad H-11 received 6,306 applications and recorded 350 women entrants (40.1 per cent); Lahore received 3,269 and recorded 182 (36.8 per cent); and the Institute of Professional Psychology, Karachi, received 2,714 and recorded 508 women entrants, 93.0 per cent of its intake. The Health Sciences Campus, Karachi, received 595 applications and made 155 offers, and tracks entry through the BUHS registry. The five campuses reporting entry account for all 3,994 women entrants.

2.2 Figures by campus (continued): shares by campus

Campus	Applications (share of University)	Offer rate	Acceptance rate	Women entrants (share of intake)	Share of University women entrants
Islamabad E-8 Campus	24,084 (47.4%)	13.0%	14.1%	1,445 (43.2%)	36.2%
Karachi Campus	13,794 (27.2%)	22.1%	22.7%	1,509 (47.2%)	37.8%
Islamabad H-11 Campus	6,306 (12.4%)	14.4%	14.2%	350 (40.1%)	8.8%
Lahore Campus	3,269 (6.4%)	22.8%	16.2%	182 (36.8%)	4.6%
Institute of Professional Psychology, Karachi	2,714 (5.3%)	24.3%	19.8%	508 (93.0%)	12.7%
Health Sciences Campus, Karachi	595 (1.2%)	26.1%	24.0%	Tracked through the BUHS registry	Not included
All campuses	50,762	17.1%	17.0%	3,994 (47.3%)	100%

Shares of applications and of women entrants are calculated from the report's figures; all other figures are as reported.

2.3 Stage definitions and rate formulas

The report defines each stage it tracks. Applications include national and foreign applicants; an offer is made to a candidate who clears the admission test and interview; acceptance is payment of the admission fee, and acceptances may exceed offers in streams where candidates moved between programmes on paying the fee; and women's final entry counts the women registered in Semester 1 of each intake. It sets three formulas: the women's application rate, as female applicants divided by total applicants; the women's acceptance rate, as women offered or accepted divided by female applicants; and the women's entry rate, as women enrolled in Semester 1 divided by the total Semester 1 intake, which gives 47.3 per cent for 2025.

- Scope & Reconciliation: Figures combine the Spring 2025 and Fall 2025 intakes across constituent campuses in the Bahria University Campus Management System (CMS). Programme-level sums are reconciled with official CMS totals for every campus and intake.
- Stage Definitions: Total Applications includes national and foreign applicants (50,762). Offered (8,662) represents candidates who cleared the admission test and interview. Accepted (8,647) represents candidates who paid the admission fee (Accepted may exceed Offered in specific streams where candidates shifted programmes upon fee payment). Women Final Entry (3,994 out of 8,451 total Semester 1 entrants, or 47.3%) represents female students registered in Semester 1 of each intake.

Institutional Tracking & Evaluation Formulas (THE Impact Rankings SDG 5.3.1 Methodology):

1. Women's Application Rate = (Total Female Applicants ÷ Total Applicants) × 100
2. Women's Acceptance Rate = (Total Female Applicants Offered / Accepted for Admission ÷ Total Female Applicants) × 100
3. Women's Entry (Enrollment) Rate = (Total Female Students Enrolled in Semester 1 ÷ Total Students Enrolled in Intake) × 100 = (3,994 ÷ 8,451) × 100 = 47.3%

Figure 7: Enlarged extract, report page 2: scope and reconciliation, stage definitions, and the formulas for the women's application, acceptance and entry rates.

2.4 Women's entry rates in charts

Applying the report's entry-rate formula, the charts below show women's share of Semester 1 entrants for each campus and each academic level against the University rate of 47.3 per cent, and the number recorded at each admission stage across all campuses. Women were a majority of entrants at the Institute of Professional Psychology (93.0 per cent) and at postgraduate level (55.3 per cent); Karachi (47.2 per cent) was within 0.1 points of the University rate; and doctoral entry (29.6 per cent) was the lowest. The Health Sciences Campus is not charted because it records entry through its own registry, and certificate courses (one entrant) are omitted. The charts are compiled from the report's figures, and their data are provided in an accompanying workbook.

3. Admissions Policy with 2025 amendments

The updated Admissions Policy retains Edition 2 and its Spring 2022 promulgation. The amendment register records changes dated 3 November 2025 under Director Admissions. Paragraph 2.1.6(b) expressly requires programme-level review of applications, offers and acceptances by gender, with action where women's offer rate is lower than men's. Paragraph 4.1.2 requires the application form and CMS, with applicant consent, to record gender and other access characteristics, and requires reporting of women's application, offer and entry rates for each programme after every cycle. These provisions support the CMS tracking report presented in Section 2. The original opening pages follow, one policy page per evidence page, before the relevant unboxed clause extracts.

3.8 Review of women's applications offers and acceptances

Paragraph 2.1.6 requires action to increase women's applications and programme-level review of applications, offers and acceptances by gender under paragraph 4.1.2. Results are reported to the Rector after every admission cycle.

> 2.1.6 Women's Access to Admission. To raise the number of women applicants, especially in subjects where they are under-represented, the University shall:
> a. run outreach to girls' schools, colleges and families, and join campaigns with other universities, community groups, government bodies and NGOs;
> b. review, for each programme, applications, offers and acceptances by gender under para 4.1.2, and act where women's offer rate is lower than men's;
> c. support women's enrolment through the scholarships in chapter 10 of the Academic Rules, hostel places and safe transport; and > d. report the results to the Rector after every cycle, under para 4.1.1(f).
> Participation and graduation are governed by para 2.1.7.

Original paragraph 2.1.6 on women's access to admission, printed page 7.

3.9 CMS tracking and reporting to the Rector

Paragraph 4.1.2 requires the online application form and CMS to record access characteristics with consent, including gender. Campuses return these figures through their weekly admissions state and applicant records. After each cycle, the Director Admissions reports applications, offers and enrolments by group and programme, with women's application, offer and entry rates for each programme. Paragraph 4.1.1(f) establishes analysis of each cycle and presentation to the Rector.

4.1 Director Admissions

4.1.1 Admissions Directorate shall be responsible for the overall conduct, control and monitoring of the admissions process for all the disciplines being offered by the BU. The Admissions Director shall:

a. Prepare and release admission schedules of various programs, and coordinate the University entry tests.

b. Coordinate with the CUs on all matters related to admissions.

c. Provide input to the management on the intake of candidates in different academic disciplines for future planning.

d. Coordinate with Director Campuses / Deans for nomination of paper setting Committee's and paper validation committees for UG & PG and PhD Programs.

e. Preparation/ Validation of entry test questionnaires for all disciplines where applicable.

f. Analyze the admission process and admission results after every admission cycle in coordination with Director Academics and Director IT, and present them formally to the Rector.

g. Revise/update, vet and print the University prospectuses encompassing all disciplines and distribute them to the CUs.

h. Act as a member of the Academic Council of the University.

j. Perform any other duty assigned by the higher authority.

4.1.2 Tracking of Access. With the applicant's consent, the online application form and the CMS shall record each applicant's gender, disability, family income or request for financial assistance, ethnic or religious minority, refugee or newly settled status, entry as a mature or other non-traditional applicant and, only as the law permits, transgender status. Campuses shall return these figures with the weekly state in para 3.3.1(c) and the record in para 4.7.1(a). After every cycle the Director Admissions shall report to the Rector, as part of para 4.1.1(f), applications, offers and enrolments by group and programme, with women's application, offer and entry rates for each programme.

Original paragraphs 4.1.1 and 4.1.2, including cycle analysis and Tracking of Access, printed page 31.

3.10 Weekly campus returns and daily applicant records

Paragraph 3.3.1(c) requires weekly campus returns showing applicants by the groups in paragraph 4.1.2. Paragraph 4.7.1(a) requires updated daily online applicant records, regular reporting to BUHO and a finalised list after the deadline, also showing applicants by group.

> c. Keep Director Admissions at BUHO informed of response to each admission program. Admissions state indicating forecast intake, number of applicants applied and processing fee deposited shall be forwarded to Director Admissions on weekly basis till admissions deadline. Show applicants by group under para 4.1.2.

Original paragraph 3.3.1(c), weekly admissions reporting with access groups, printed page 23.

> 4.7 Admissions Office (Campuses/CUs)
> 4.7.1 The Admission office of each campus shall:
> a. Maintain an updated record of all candidates who have applied online on daily basis. Forward updated status to BUHO on regular basis. After admissions dead line, forward a finalized list to BUHO for perusal of Competent Authority. Show applicants by group under para 4.1.2.

Original paragraph 4.7.1(a), daily applicant records and reporting by group, printed page 35.

4. Summary of evidence

Element of the requirement	Evidence	Figures
Women's application rate	Applications tracked in the CMS for every campus and level (50,762 in 2025, national and foreign); the Directorate defines the women's application rate as female applicants divided by total applicants	3 to 7
Women's acceptance rate	Offers (8,662) and acceptances (8,647) tracked for every campus and level, with campus and level rates; the women's acceptance rate defined as women offered or accepted divided by female applicants	3 to 7
Women's entry rate	3,994 women among 8,451 Semester 1 entrants (47.3%), reported for each campus (36.8% to 93.0%) and each level (29.6% to 55.3%), and charted against the University rate	Figures 3–8
Systematic tracking	Single CMS record for all campuses; standard stage definitions; programme-level sums reconciled with CMS totals for every campus and intake; weekly campus admissions states, a daily record of applicants and analysis after every cycle presented to the Rector	Figures 1–14
Current policy	Admissions Policy, Edition 2 with amendments dated 3 November 2025	Figures 9–14
Reporting year	Spring 2025 and Fall 2025 intakes	All

Taken together, the records show that Bahria University tracks every stage of admission, from application through offer and acceptance to Semester 1 entry, for every campus and both 2025 intakes in its CMS. The Directorate of Admissions reports women's entry by campus and academic level against defined formulas. The attached Admissions Policy, Edition 2, as amended on 3 November 2025, requires women's applications, offers and enrolments to be reviewed by group and programme, women's application, offer and entry rates to be reported to the Rector after every cycle, and applicant-group information to be included in campus reporting.
