Professional Development
Courses Fall 2021-Spring 2022

Achieving success in our career requires continuous training and development, which is where professional development comes into play. Professional development alludes to all training, workshop, and certification that all employees need to prevail in their career. The professional world is turning out to be progressively competitive and dynamic, making professional development more significant than ever before. Technological advancement across industries is making it pivotal for both professionals to continuously foster their skills and sharpen their insights. Professional development acts as a catalyst to success for employees leading to the success of organization. Moreover, employees feel more engaged if the employer values them by investing in their trainings and developments.

Keeping in view the fast-changing training and development needs, Bahria University Leadership Development Centre (LDC) has been established with an aim to strengthen the leadership potential of its stakeholder including private and public sector, commercial organizations, academic institutions, and the society in general. The LDC runs a portfolio of advance level certified courses/workshops for academia and industry to improve their technical, managerial, and personal skills in a vast array of disciplines.

We ensure you see training as an investment rather than an activity

Dr. Sobia Shujaat
